Dear Mr Patterson

Annual Letter 2015/16

Following the recent publication of my Annual Report I am pleased to provide you with the Annual Letter (2015/16) for Powys County Council.

Overall my office's caseload has increased by 4% this year, but I am pleased to say that public body complaints fell by the same amount; only the second time in a decade this has happened. However, disappointingly the NHS in Wales was the only sector in my jurisdiction that saw a rise in complaints which now count for over a third of all public body complaints; a total increase of 51% in the last five years.

During 2015/16 we received 906 complaints against local authorities, down from 938 from the previous year.

In reference to outcomes there has been a large increase in the number of early resolutions and voluntary settlements achieved with local authorities with 81 cases in 2015/16 compared to 58 in 2014/15. I am committed to ensuring where possible, bodies from all sectors resolve complaints as quickly and effectively as possible and I am therefore pleased with these statistics.

My office has issued only one public interest report against a local authority during the past year – the same number as 2014/15. This related to failings around a council's failure to properly consider assess and identify the special educational needs of a primary school pupil.

Across all public bodies, after health (36%), housing is the second biggest area of complaint (13%) of our caseload, followed by Planning and Building Control (10%) and Social Services (9%).

The number of Code of Conduct complaints rose by 19% compared with 2014/15 (274 in 2015/16 against 231). It is disappointing to see this rise, although it is almost entirely attributable to community councils where there has been a 49% increase.

Last year I introduced a public interest test for code of conduct complaints and I am pleased to say this has helped my office in dealing with these complaints in an effective manner.

I am only too aware that we are in the run-up to the local elections where historically there is a spike in code of conduct complaints against local authority members. I have spoken previously about vexatious complaints and I would be most disappointed to see an increase in complaints of a trivial matter over the next 12 months when my office is dealing with issues of real concern across public services in my jurisdiction.

More generally my office is working in a number of ways to “turn the curve” of complaints against a backdrop of austerity and an ageing population.

During the past year, I introduced some staffing changes at my office, key amongst these was enhanced roles for a number of investigation staff to include ‘improvement officer’ duties. This places a greater emphasis on best practice, corporate cultural development, and ending cycles of poor service delivery. Whilst the new arrangements are still in their early days, I have been very pleased with the progress that has been made.

Whilst the ombudsman scheme in Wales is well respected at home and abroad, I feel strongly that we must ensure that it is future-proofed and citizen-centred.

I have been particularly pleased that the Finance Committee of the National Assembly for Wales agreed to undertake an inquiry into the powers of the Public Services Ombudsman for Wales, and that a draft Public Services Ombudsman (Wales) Bill has resulted from this. I am now keen to see the Fifth Assembly take this bill forward and introduce it as legislation as soon as is practically possible.

You will find below a factsheet giving a breakdown of complaints data relating to your local authority along with explanatory notes.

This correspondence has been copied to the Leader of the Council for consideration by the cabinet. I will also be sending a copy to your contact officer within your organisation and would again reiterate the importance of this role. Finally, a copy of all annual letters will be published on my website.

Yours sincerely

Factsheet

In reference to your local authority, the number of complaints received by my office has reduced from 60 in 2014/15 to 53 in 2015/16. There were 23 complaints regarding Planning and Building Control matters while Complaints Handling and Children's Social Services make up five complaints each. There were 13 Code of Conduct complaints made against members of Powys County Council – the second highest of any local authority in Wales. However, in all cases it was decided not to investigate the respective matters any further.

Explanatory Notes

Section A compares the number of complaints against the Council which were received by my office during 2015/16, with the Local Authority average (adjusted for population distribution) during the same period.

Section B provides a breakdown of the number of complaints about the Council which were received by my office during 2015/16 with the with the Local Authority average for the same period. The figures are broken down into subject categories.

Section c provides the number of complaints against the Council which were investigated by my office during 2015/16 with the Local Authority average (adjusted for population distribution) during the same period.

Section D compares the complaint outcomes for the Council during 2015/16, with the average outcome (adjusted for population distribution) during the same period. Public Interest reports issued under section 16 of the Public Services Ombudsman (Wales) Act 2005 are recorded as 'Section 16'.

Section E compares the Council's response times during 2015/16 with the average response times for all Local Authorities and all public bodies in Wales during the same period. This graph measures the time between the date my office issued an 'investigation commencement' letter, and the date my office receives a full response to that letter from the public body.

Section F provides a breakdown of all Code of Conduct complaints received against Councillors during 2015/16. Finally, Section G contains the summaries appearing in our casebook during 2015/16.
