* Email provides a quick and efficient means of communication, but you should be aware that there is always a small risk of messages being intercepted. As a precaution, we will send sensitive or confidential information to you via encrypted Microsoft 365 email. More details can be found on our website.
Sometimes we receive complaints we cannot look at. People can be unhappy when we have to tell them this. To avoid disappointment, before submitting your complaint, it is helpful if you can think about how the member you are complaining about has breached the Code of Conduct. You can find out more about the Code of Conduct on Guidance & Policy Page on our website. We also recommend that you read the following factsheets on our website: • Code of Conduct - General Information • Code of Conduct - What we do when we get your complaint • Code of Conduct - Assessing public interest
It is important to provide as much direct evidence as possible in support of any complaint, as well as the names and contact details of any witnesses relevant to your complaint.
The person who experienced the problem should normally fill in this form. If you are filling this in on behalf of someone else, please fill in section B.

Supporting Documents

When submitting a complaint to us that a member has breached the Code of Conduct, it is crucial to provide as much direct evidence as possible in support of any complaint.

Meeting your needs

Please let us know if you need us to adapt the way we communicate with you. If anything makes it difficult for you to use our service, for example, if you have a disability, please explain in the section below. We consider whether your request is reasonable and appropriate in the circumstances. This is because we need to use public money carefully.
